

a week to remember

9th – 14th November
Free Events

Step back in time and discover a decade that changed the world, from the home front to the battlefields of World War One

ON AT ROTHES
HALLS

Monday 9 November | 10am – 11.30am
Free, booking essential | 01592 611101

Start Your Family Tree Workshop

Do you know who you are? Can we help you begin to dig up your roots, or start your family tree? Using the resources of our archives, museums & libraries you can start to uncover what life was like for your ancestors living in Fife.

ON AT METHIL
LIBRARY

Tuesday 10 November | 2pm – 4pm
Free, booking essential | 01334 659374

World War One Family History

Come and find out how to research your family history with Fife Cultural Trust. In this session we'll look particularly at how to find out about your World War One ancestors.

Tuesday 10 November | 4.30pm – 5.30pm
Thursday 12 November | 4.30pm – 5.30pm
Age 5 – 11 | Free, booking essential

Periscopes, Poppies & Pincushions

Have a go at some World War One inspired crafts, choose to make and take home a periscope, poppy or pin cushion – the choice is yours!

Tuesday 10 November | 7pm – 8pm
Free, booking essential | 01334 659339

Animals at War

In this fascinating talk Alistair McEwan of the Scotland's War project will elaborate on the vital role played by animals in the cause of human freedom. Many and various beast were employed to support British & Allied Forces in World War One and as a result, millions died.

Thursday 12 November | 7pm – 8pm
Free, booking essential | 01592 611101

Tanks and the Great War

Tanks and the Great War – from wonder weapon – to fundraiser – to the scrapheap. This talk by Mike Taylor will look at the development and the use of tanks on the battlefield, how they caught the public's imagination and how from a potent symbol of victory they eventually became an embarrassing reminder of the war.

Saturday 14 November | 11am – 3pm
Free, drop in event. No booking required

Free Family Day

Meet a World War One soldier, handle original artefacts and climb on board our mobile museum. There's also a chance to try some crafts from hat making to periscopes, just drop in to take part in these free activities commemorating the anniversary of the conflict.

Booking essential for workshops. For Animals at War talk please contact Methil Heritage Centre on 01334 659339 for all other events at Rothes Halls contact 01592 611101 or go online at onfife.com www.onfife.com/fifegreatwar Facebook: www.facebook.com/fifegreatwar Twitter: @onfifemuseums

