WELCOME

to your new Museums and Galleries Diary. We are delighted to bring you exhibitions and events across all our family of venues including Rothes Halls and Lochgelly Centre.

We have inspiring new exhibitions with hands-on events, our continuing WW1 Moving Stories exhibition and an exciting new Singing Kettle exhibition, which will be sure to bring back memories.

Our museums are a real reflection of the people of Fife, with over 90% of collections having been gifted by members of the public. If you have something you think would be of interest to us for Fife's museum and gallery collections we would love to hear from you. Please email museums.enquiries@onfife.com or ask at your local museum to find out more.

Financial donations of all sizes make a difference to the scope and the quality of what we offer. Please consider making a donation today if you have enjoyed your visit. Contact Bill Mair – bill.mair@onfife.com – for more information on donations and gift aid or simply go to onfife.com/donate

THE GREAT TAPESTRY OF SCOTLAND

20 June – 20 September | Daily | Free

Initiated by author Alexander McCall Smith, artist Andrew Crummy and historian Alistair Moffat, this remarkable exhibition is one of the biggest community arts projects in the world. Consisting of 160 panels and running more than 140 metres in length, the Tapestry brings the history of Scotland to life in vibrant colour, from 420 million years ago to the 21st century.

Taking more than 1,000 talented volunteers over 55,000 hours to complete, this project saw the translation of Crummy's descriptive artwork into a rich, skilful and textural depiction of Scottish history – using over 300 miles of woollen yarn! Packed with detail and rendered in vivid colour, The Great Tapestry of Scotland is a fantastic day out for visitors of all ages. scotlandtapestry.com

Exhibition stand materials supplied and constructed by MKM Building Supplies Ltd., Rejects Department Store and Fife Council Criminal Justice Services Community Payback Scheme.

KIRKCALDY MUSEUM 90th BIRTHDAY

1 June – 4 October | Daily | Free

This year sees the 90th anniversary of Kirkcaldy Museum, Art Gallery and the War Memorial, which opened in late June 1925.

To celebrate our birthday we are showing objects relating to this historic event. Pride of place goes to the portrait of linoleum manufacturer John Nairn, who funded the Museum and War Memorial.

See fascinating film footage of the opening event in our Moments in Time display, as well as a selection of objects from the ceremony and some of the first donations to the collection, including personal objects that belonged to Kirkcaldy child author Marjory Fleming (1803–11).

FIFE ART EXHIBITION

10 October – 13 November
Daily | Free

Now in its 32nd year, this ever popular open art exhibition returns to Kirkcaldy – what will the creative folk of Fife produce this year?

The Fife Art Exhibition is sponsored by Shell UK and is open to all artists living in Fife who have not completed full-time degree or diploma art courses. All entries will be displayed so there will be over 300 paintings, drawings, photographs and craftwork pieces to view. Application forms can be picked up in our Museums, Theatres or Libraries or from onfife.com or fromonfife.com/fifeart

TREASURES FOUND: ARCHAEOLOGY FROM THE EAST OF SCOTLAND

21 November – 14 February 2016 | Daily | Free

From a Bronze Age spearhead to Roman coins and a Medieval pilgrim badge, this exhibition of recent archaeological finds from the East of Scotland sheds a fascinating new light on the history of the area.

Museums in Fife, Edinburgh, Scottish Borders and East and West Lothian have come together to create an exhibition of items obtained through Treasure Trove. Under Scottish Law, ownerless objects found by chance – whether by metal detecting, field-walking or archaeological excavation – become property of the Crown and can be claimed as Treasure Trove.

Supported by the Art Fund and the Headley Trust and created by the East of Scotland Museums Partnership

ROBERT DUNSIRE THE STORY OF A VICTORIA CROSS

25 August – 13 February 2016 | Free

Only five Victoria Crosses were awarded to Fifers during World War One. This exhibition tells the story of one – Robert Dunsire – and it follows his journey from the coalfields of East Fife to his death in 1916 after the Battle of Loos, and the act of bravery that won him the very highest award that this country can bestow upon a person.

Heroism, community and remembrance are celebrated in this exhibition, which is curated by Methil Heritage Friends, assisted by Fife Cultural Trust and supported by the Heritage Lottery Fund.

The Friends of Methil Heritage bring a wide range of fascinating talks to the Centre each year. To learn more about their calendar of programmes, please contact the Centre on 01334 659339.

new additions

The Museums' collection contains a table and two chairs carved out of type of coal known as parrot coal. One of the chairs is on show in the Moments in Time display at Kirkcaldy Galleries. They were made in 1855 by Thomas Williamson, a stonemason from West Wemyss. We did not know what he looked like – until now! One of his descendants recently donated this photograph of him to the Museums' collection. It will feature in a small display alongside other new acquisitions from 5 October to 12 January 2016.
