Closed on public holidays – 18th July and Christmas (see website for details)

There is so much to see and do when you come to Kirkcaldy Galleries. Our Library has a wide range of books and services for all ages. The Art Gallery shows temporary and longer term exhibitions, many of them featuring selections from our outstanding Scottish art collection. Be inspired by the paintings of William McTaggart, one of the country's greatest artists, and The Scottish Colourists, including many works by S J Peploe. And why not also take time for refreshments in the Café Wemyss with its stunning display of pottery?

See highlights from the history of Kirkcaldy in the Moments in Time long-term Museum display. Where else can you see a Raith Rovers turnstile, a penny farthing bicycle, a harpoon from a whaling ship and a chair made of coal all on display together?! You can investigate your own history further in our Local and Family History Centre.

The Friends of Kirkcaldy Galleries encourage and promote the development of the Galleries, in particular the art collection and the museum, and raise funds in support of these aims. The Friends have their 25th anniversary this year and have raised well over £100,000 in funds to support our collections and exhibitions work in that time. KIRKCALDY TAPESTRY PANEL

From 6 July | Daily | Free

Last year Kirkcaldy Galleries was delighted to host the Great Tapestry of Scotland, drawing huge crowds from across the country. Now a wonderful legacy of this exhibition goes on display at the Galleries... our very own Kirkcaldy tapestry panel. Designed by Great Tapestry artist Andrew Crummy and overseen by Dorie Wilkie, Great Tapestry Stitch Co-ordinator, this embroidery was stitched by the public during the exhibition and completed by a team of dedicated volunteers in subsequent months.

The result is a stunning record of Kirkcaldy's history, and a testament to the hard work of many hundreds of volunteers – thank you everybody!

‘Great to have the opportunity to be part of the bigger picture.’

the Singing Kettle™

EXHIBITION

An exciting and nostalgic interactive exhibition for all the family!

OPENING TIMES: Mon 12-5pm, Tue-Sat 10-4pm, Sun 12-4pm

The Singing Kettle have entertained upwards of 5 million parents and children at their live shows over some 30 years (not to mention the millions who watched them on 8 television series for BBC and ITV). Now, as Artie and Cilla hand the baton over to a new generation of entertainers, experience this fun-packed trip down memory lane at this kettle-tastic exhibition for the whole family. Back for one last time following a sell-out run at Rothes Halls last summer.

SEE Bunny Fou Fou with his giant hammer!

OPEN the original kettles from the stage show!

TAKE a selfie with Granny on the Bus!

DRESS UP in costumes from the live shows and play in the Singing Kettle playhouse!

VISIT the dressing room to see costumes worn by the cast!

ENJOY posters and pictures of your favourite shows!

JOIN the audience as we create, through video, the experience of going to a show!

There will be lots of activities for the kids and Kettles full of nostalgia for the adults! For those of you looking to take a piece of that nostalgia home with you, Kettles will be available to bid for.

SPAN

A TALE OF THREE BRIDGES

3 September – 26 February 2017 | Daily | Free Admission

The Queensferry Crossing is fast nearing completion – so what better time than now to celebrate the iconic bridges across the Forth, examples of three centuries of engineering excellence? In a unique partnership with Deep Sea World, we have created SPAN – A Tale of Three Bridges, an exhibition which mixes stunning historic images with family-friendly hands-on fun.

The show will tell the stories of the Forth Rail Bridge, the Forth Road Bridge and the new Queensferry Crossing. You can learn about the bold Victorians who risked their lives to create the magnificent rail bridge – a wonder of the age. What about the ‘spider men’ of the road bridge – how did they gain that nickname? And how close did we come to having a tunnel under the Forth, rather than the new crossing?

All the family can get hands-on too, with lots of interactive fun. There is a giant snakes and ladders game, a sea monster magnetic mix-up, a massive jigsaw, dressing up and quizzes. Everything will be bridge-themed and will therefore inspire any budding engineers in the family.

UNKNOWN ALISON KINNAIRD INSTALLATION

3 October 2016 - 8 January 2017
Daily | Free

Alison Kinnaird has an international reputation as an artist working in glass. This installation of glass soldiers is her response to the present state of conflict in so many parts of the world, and the fact that we never seem to learn from the experiences of the past. Making references to the Terracotta Army of the Chinese Emperors, the installation has been touring the country in association with Poppy Scotland.

Comments from visitors

'Utterly beautiful and moved to tears.'

The town of St Andrews was a major centre of European pilgrimage in the Middle Ages, with thousands of pilgrims journeying there to see the relics of the apostle St Andrew in the Cathedral. Why not make a trip today to St Andrews Museum to find out about this and other fascinating stories from the past? Our long term display, A St Andrews A-Z, includes rare medieval pilgrim badges, 4,000 year-old arrowheads, 19th century banners and even an executioner's axe!

St Andrews Museum is in Kinburn House which was built in the mid-1850s. It was named after a Crimean War battle and later opened as a museum in 1991. Located in Kinburn Park, the museum is next to tennis, bowling and putting activities. Our first floor gallery hosts temporary exhibitions and you can relax in our ever-popular Café in the Park.

The Glasgow Boys

A spirit of rebellion

Until 3 September | Daily – as venue opening hours | Free Admission

Linked by friendship and a shared desire to rebel against the artistic traditions of late 19th century Scotland, the Glasgow Boys became one of the most significant groups of painters working in Britain during this era. A loose association of around 20 artists, many of them went on to enjoy critical acclaim and commercial success, both at home and abroad.

The exhibition looks at the evolving style of the Glasgow Boys and their impact on the art world. Included are works from our collection by leading members of the group and many others associated with it, including Arthur Melville, John Lavery, E A Hornel, George Henry, James Guthrie, Joseph Crawhall, E A Walton, Alexander Roche and Thomas Corsan Morton.

There are Curator's Tours, Artist Masterclasses and Family Events running alongside the exhibition. All ticketed events can be booked through www.onfine.com or at St Andrews Museum.

EXQUISITE CORPSE

17 September - 19 November | Free

A selection of works from Scottish Society of Artists

Exquisite corpse (cadavre exquis, the original French term) is a method by which words or images are collectively assembled, each collaborator adding to a composition in sequence. The technique was invented by surrealists and is similar to an old parlour game called Consequences. Surrealism principal founder André Breton reported that it started in fun, but became playful and eventually enriching.

The exhibition has been curated by Katharine Aarrestad and Paul Charlton of the Society of Scottish Artists who have asked SSA artists to respond to a piece of 'surreal' text they have created, in the same vein as the original 1920s game Exquisite Corpse prompted the original surrealist artists such as André Breton, Joan Miró, Max Ernst, Salvador Dalí and René Magritte.

Come and see how this 'creative game' plays out...

Jasleen Kaur, portrait with bust

Thinglsm

3 December 2016 - 25 February 2017 | Daily | Free

Presented by Fife Contemporary Art & Craft as part of their 10th anniversary season.

Thinglsm is the first solo exhibition by Scottish Indian artist Jasleen Kaur, currently based in London. Originally studying jewellery she was awarded the Jerwood Makers Open in 2015. She is however not easily categorised as a craft artist since her practice now involves making through a range of media more usually identified with visual art.

The exhibition will feature a series of short films including a new commission and sculptural works exploring the artist's dual heritage such as the busts made for the Jerwood Makers Open and her unique Cairns touch lamps, commissioned by the BALTIC Centre for Contemporary Art.

For information on the events organised to accompany the exhibition please check on www.fcac.co.uk and at the museum.

The Old Post Office Building, 272 High Street, Lower Methil, Fife KY8 3EQ
T 01334 659339 E fife.museums@onfife.com

The Museum is on the ground floor and is wheelchair accessible.

Open Tue - Thur 11am - 4.30pm.

Saturday 1pm - 4.30pm.

Closed on Public Holidays and Christmas (see website for details)

Methil Heritage Centre is a community museum lying in the heart of Levenmouth, an area stretching from Leven to the Wemyss villages, and from Kennoway to the shores of the River Forth. Located in a former Post Office, the centre hosts a programme of changing exhibitions and events, as well as a tearoom and shop.

The long term display, Levenmouth Lives, offers a flavour of the rich heritage of the area. Evidence of life in early times can be seen by the Pictish carvings in the Wemyss Caves. In more recent times the village of Buckhaven had the second largest fishing fleet in Scotland and Methil was the most important port in Scotland for shipping coal that came from the many mines in Fife.

The Methil Heritage Friends also organise events and activities.

DIGGING DEEPER

ARCHAEOLOGICAL FINDS FROM FIFE

1 March - 27 August | Free

Archaeological finds are part of a huge jigsaw. Each piece, however small, can help us understand more about the past. Excavations, field walking, metal detecting and Treasure Trove have helped us gather together a large and varied archaeology collection.

Digging Deeper looks at the importance of archaeology and showcases a selection of fascinating objects from our museums. From Bronze Age funeral urns and Roman brooches, to Viking silver and Medieval pilgrim badges, discover the richness and diversity of Fife's heritage.

Over the summer, younger visitors can take part in two workshops for ages 7-12 and in August there is a free drop in event with Treasure Trove staff from National Museums Scotland. For full information please visit www.onfife.com/museums

FIFE ART EXHIBITION

3 October – 16 November | Free

The Fife Art exhibition, sponsored by Shell UK, is open to all artists living in Fife who are not currently taking, or have not completed, full-time degree or diploma courses.

Individual artists may submit one piece of work each in any medium, such as painting, sculpture, photography, jewellery, pottery or embroidery. Art works must be the sole work of the artist, collaborations are not permitted and all works must be for sale.

Entry forms are available in all libraries, theatres and museums and must be submitted to the Lochgelly centre by 5pm on Monday 5th September 2016.

The exhibition at Lochgelly Centre will display all work submitted. The six best entries will be purchased by Shell. They will be put on display at Kirkcaldy Galleries following the show and then donated to Fife hospitals and health care facilities.

GLENROTHES ART CLUB ANNUAL EXHIBITION

6 August – 14 September | 9am – 5pm Mon – Sat | Free

Glenrothes Art Club annual exhibition returns to FifeSpace gallery in 2016 with a display of contemporary fine art in oils, watercolours, acrylics, pastels and pen and ink. In addition to the impressive arrangement of some 200 paintings and drawings, there will be two large display cases full of inspiring craft work. All the work is for sale.

SCOTTISH LANDSCAPE PHOTOGRAPHER OF THE YEAR COLLECTION 2

17 September – 4 November | 9am – 5pm Mon – Sat | Free

The Scottish Landscape Photographer of the Year competition is the brainchild of Fife landscape photographer, Stuart Low. Now in its second year, the competition has become one of the most popular events in the outdoor photography calendar, with accompanying exhibitions touring selected venues across Scotland.

The competition showcases the work of the many talented photographers who live in, and come to Scotland to capture our breath-taking views through their lenses. The exhibition promotes tourism, conservation and encourages people to explore and enjoy the many wonderful places that Scotland has to offer.

Collection 2 showcases the winning and commended images from all of the main categories in the Landscape, Seascape, Urban and Youth classes.

A stunning limited edition portfolio book will also be available to buy at the gallery.

HE COLLECTS BOOKS OF THE SAME SIZE AN EXHIBITION BY GAYLE NELSON & FIONA MCDONALD

12 November – 22 December | 9am – 5pm Mon – Sat | Free

This collaborative exhibition explores the subject of autism. Featured in the exhibition is an installation created around the theme of Wing's Triad of Impairments. The artists made the work about their respective sons, and other works in the exhibition further research the behaviours that make the boys who they are.

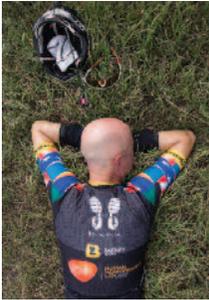

ASYLUM

movements-moments-obligations by
Max Bryan, Leonidas Toumpana and Joe Glover

18 June – 30 July | 9am – 5pm Mon – Sat | Free

Asylum - movements-moments-obligations explores three different experiences of the asylum seeker, in three different European countries, France, Greece and Scotland. Max Bryan's work on the temporary dwellings of the camp in Calais, known as 'The Jungle'; Leonidas Toumpanas' work 'The Return' explores the little known story of economic migrants in Greece who seek repatriation to their home nations; whilst Joe Glover's work delves into Dungavel House, Detention Centre, Scotland, highlighting experiences of the detainees.

THE LONELINESS OF THE LONG DISTANCE CYCLIST

BY SAM FINCH

8 August – 17 September | 9am – 5pm Mon – Sat | Free

This exhibition, by young volunteer, Sam Finch, is a photo documentary of Smith's attempt to cycle the world.

On 24 July 2015 Peter Adam Smith departed from Dumfries in an attempt to break the Guinness World Record for circumnavigating the globe by bicycle. Supported by 3 young volunteers he attempted to become first person to complete this journey in under 100 days. He cycled through 13 countries, travelling East to West, through Europe, Russia, Kazakhstan and China.

DIGITALIS BY GEORGEANA PARSONS

26 September – 5 November | 9am – 5pm Mon – Sat | Free

This exhibition features digitally manipulated auto-portraiture images, by Brighton based photographer, Georgeana Parsons, which offer a glimpse into surreal alternate realities, reminiscent of a dream state. Parsons' work is a hybrid of photography and digital manipulation which explores how the medium is perceived, beyond the simple representation of reality.

BEHIND THE CURTAIN

ON AT FIFE ARCHIVES & LOCAL STUDIES

ON at Fife Archives looks after documents covering an incredible 500 years of Fife's history. Our job is to preserve the records and help you to use them at our Archive Centre in Kirkcaldy. We have a huge variety of resources for research. Contact: Archives Team at Iona House, John Smith Business Park, Kirkcaldy, KY2 6NA. Please call 01592 583352 for further information and to arrange an appointment.

Our major Local Studies Collections contain a wide range of books, maps and photos, including historical Fife newspapers. If you are working on your family tree we have copies of the census returns and old parish registers for Fife. These can be found at: Dunfermline (temporarily at St Margaret's House), Kirkcaldy Galleries, Cupar Library and Methil Library.

Please come and view our collections and undertake your own research. The local studies staff can answer simple enquiries by phone, email or letter. Please visit www.onfife.com for contact information.

ON AT DUNFERMLINE CARNEGIE LIBRARY & GALLERIES

Opening in Spring 2017, the much anticipated Dunfermline Carnegie Library & Galleries will incorporate a spectacular new museum in the heart of Dunfermline's Heritage Quarter. Award winning Richard Murphy Architects have designed a unique extension that links superbly to the world's first Carnegie Library.

Within the new state-of-the-art Galleries, Dunfermline's past will be brought to life. As one of Scotland's former ancient capitals, Dunfermline has both a remarkable royal history and an impressive industrial heritage. Fascinating stories of the town's past will be retold through a series of special films, inspiring interviews, engaging mini computer games and of course our collections.

And there's more! The new building will boast a new Local Studies Centre, temporary exhibition galleries, a large modern children's library, a landscaped garden and a café bar with stunning views – providing attractions for everyone to experience and enjoy.
