Welcome

Autumn is upon us and we've all been beavering away here at ONFife to make sure you have the very best of entertainment to look forward to.

The jewel in the crown: Dunfermline's Carnegie Hall rings in 80 years this October so we've put together a programme of events for the whole family - from an exhibit of photographs and images that chart the venue's storied life so far to a night of cinema which commences with a red carpet screening of The King's Speech to evoke the spirit of 1937. More on page 28.

We're otherwise spoiled for highlights this Autumn. Much loved at Adam Smith Theatre, James Yorkston's Tae Sup Wi' A Fifer gig series tips up for another round of carefully crafted evenings with Radiohead's Philip Selway, Kurt Cobain favourites The Vaselines and the cryptically monikered Ol'Crabbit John.

Still on music, YolanDa Brown brings a sassy sax with a touch of jazz, soul and reggae to Rothes Hall in October while Deacon Blue Lynchpin Ricky Ross brings 30 years of quality classic Scottish pop song writing to Carnegie Hall in November.

Over at Lochgelly we are delighted to welcome the fabulous Birds of Paradise with their poignant story Blanche & Butch while in Comedy East Wemyss boy done good Daniel Sloss performs at Adam Smith Theatre with his latest stand-up show.

By December 'It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas' which can only mean Panto season! Oh yes it does! Our very magical Tiny Little Christmas Festival brings an array of workshops, family shows and nostalgic films to Carnegie Hall while at Adam Smith Theatre Aladdin swoops into Kirkcaldy on his magic carpet. See pages 23 and 32 Book now to avoid disappointment as tickets are already selling quickly!

Dunfermline Carnegie Library & Galleries opened its doors in May with a host of awards and I would encourage you all to visit and explore all it has to offer inclusive of its fabulous Heaven Scent café! Be sure to look for our Sunday Seminars series and bone up on your local history, or take full advantage of our free Bookbug sessions, which encourage a love of reading for the next generation.

And all of this barely scratches the surface of what our theatres, libraries, museums, mobile services and heritage sites have to offer. As ever, you'll find full show listings on our centre pages, which I recommend you pull out and pin up as an at a glance reference. Our website (onfife.com) is the place to go to book tickets and stay up to date with new additions to our events guide. If you're on Facebook or Twitter, why not check into one of our venues, join the conversation, or post a picture when you attend one of our shows.

Enjoy

Chief Executive

How To Book

ON your travels

Visit us at one of our four Theatre Box Offices or at the event venue.

ONline

Book online and choose your own seats at onfife.com

ON the phone

Call any of our Box Offices directly, the numbers are at the bottom of each page.

Reservation fees:

For tickets costing more than £5 there is a reservation fee applied online and on the phone but no charge in person at the box office:

- £1 reservation fee per ticket (max £5 per transaction).
- Reservation fees are not charged for classes, courses or participatory activities.
- If you plan to book more than 5 tickets across one or more shows, we recommend booking them all at the same time.

The reservation fee is reinvested directly into Fife Cultural Trust, enabling us to continue to provide high quality cultural services across Fife. We remain committed to presenting shows and events at affordable prices.

Data Protection

Fife Cultural Trust is registered with the Data Protection Registrar and is committed to upholding the Data Protection Act. Should you wish to be removed from our mailing list, please email sharon.wallace@onfife.com

Concessions

We offer lower-priced concession tickets for many of our shows. If you are under 16, a Senior Citizen, student in full time education, registered disabled or unemployed, where you see 'conc.' you can book at a reduced price. When collecting concessionary tickets, proof of concession must be provided.

Babe in Arms advanced bookings

In order to give parents and carers peace of mind when making advanced booking for shows, we have introduced a Babe in Arms ticket (for suitable performances) for only £2. This charge enables us to register attendance and support parents and carers when you are in our venues.

Groups

We welcome larger parties and if you have a group of 10+ interested in seeing a show, call any of our Box Offices or our Groups Booking line on 01592 583354, as you may be able to benefit from a group discount.

You Tell Us

Whether you've seen a show, had lunch in one of our cafés or just have a suggestion, we want to hear from you. Log on to youtellus.co.uk or speak to a member of staff.

Access

Our theatres and museums are fully accessible with ramps for easy access, plus disabled toilets, induction loops and disabled parking. Guide dogs and hearing dogs are welcome. Fife Cultural Trust actively supports breastfeeding. You are welcome to feed your baby in any of our public or community venues.

Just ask at Box Office if you'd like this brochure in a large print or audio version.

Dunfermline Carnegie Library & Galleries

Dunfermline Carnegie Library & Galleries is not only the town's newest landmark but also a welcome addition to Scotland's cultural offering that's destined to bring new visitors – both young and old – to the Kingdom of Fife.

The new building links superbly to the world's first Carnegie Library and provides attractions for everyone to experience and enjoy, including a new museum, exhibition galleries, local studies centre, a large modern children's library and a mezzanine café with stunning views over the landscaped garden to Dunfermline Abbey and the Heritage Quarter.

As one of Scotland's former ancient capitals, Dunfermline has both a remarkable royal history and an impressive industrial heritage. Dunfermline's past is brought to life in the new museum with fascinating stories retold through a series of special films, inspiring interviews, engaging computer games and, of course, our collections.

Heaven Scent's café offers delicious breakfasts, lunches, children's menu, gluten free dishes, barista coffee and home-made cakes.

Exhibition

Art In Trust

Daily until Jan 2018 | FREE

Highlights from our wonderful paintings collection celebrate the opening of our fantastic new facility. The exhibition shows the breadth of the collection and there is something for everyone to enjoy, from landscapes and portraits to seascapes and still lifes. On display are works by many well-known artists, including William McTaggart, James McIntosh Patrick, Walter Sickert and L S Lowry. There are also paintings by all four Scottish Colourists – Peploe, Hunter, Fergusson and Cadell – and Glasgow Boy, E A Hornel.

As well as enjoying a visual feast, visitors can also find out how the collection was formed and continues to develop today – with recent acquisitions on show, such as Love's Whispers by William McTaggart and Fent by Alison Watt.

Exhibition

We Made It

Daily until Jan 2018 | FREE

Celebrate the completion of this complex creation which involved archeology, architecture, community, construction and conservation. With film and audio we present people's stories from the past and present. Over 400 people of all ages helped with research, photography and testing out our ideas. See if you can spot someone you know.

Exhibition

Calling all 21+ Potterholics! We're sending out the owls and calling you to Dunfermline Carnegie Library & Galleries for an evening of wizarding mystery...

Something is amiss at Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, and when someone turns up dead at a school for magic it takes a lot more than a normal detective to solve it. It takes someone who really knows a snitch from a niffler!

Watch events unfold then have your chance to interrogate each suspect in turn. Bring a team or come on your own! Can YOU catch the killer?

Enjoy a Harry Potter themed cocktail on arrival as well as some delicious nibbles.

Exhibition

Coast Along

Community Gallery
Mon 9 Oct - Sun 5 Nov | FREE

A series of film photographs taken along The Fife Coastal Path and displayed as Japanese scrolls.

With a style that has been described as "poetic", Scott Hunter's work pays particular attention to the sequencing of images as he gently probes themes such as transience, femininity and mortality.

Through combining traditional and contemporary printing practices, these delicate works aim to blur the lines between analogue and digital photography.

Sunday Seminars

Bristling With Guns:

How tanks and artillery came to Fife at the end of WW1

By Dr Mike Taylor

Sun 17 Sept | 2pm-3pm | £2

To commemorate the centenary of the First World War, Dr Mike Taylor is looking at the Home Front from a different perspective; especially all the ordnance which accumulated in towns around Scotland after the end of the hostilities.

Ideas And Fantasies:

The development of Dunfermline through the 20th and into the 21st Century
Sam Foster

Sun 1 Oct | 2-3pm | £2

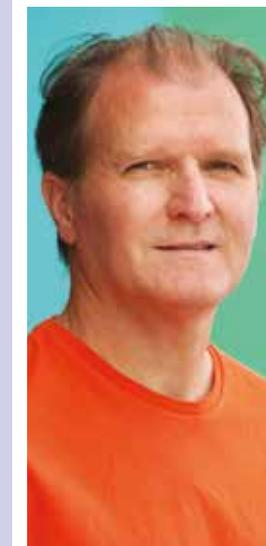

Dunfermline, Scotland's ancient capital, has long been the subject of ideas and fantasies about how it should be laid out and developed. From philanthropically-financed studies by Andrew Carnegie's trustees to children-designed models and ambitious plans and a whole lot more in between, this Sunday Seminar looks at how the layout of the town has changed over the last 120 years - for better and for worse. Drawing on rarely seen maps, sketches, photographs and films, local architect Sam Foster will guide you through some incredible ideas and invite you to think about what you'd like to see changed over the next century.

Talk

The Mindful Way to Handle Life - with Martin Stepek

Wed 11 Oct | Dunfermline Carnegie Library & Galleries | 11am | £4

We all get bumps and bruises along the way in life. Some are inevitable, others perhaps a result of our knee-jerk response to events. Whatever the cause we could all do with reclaiming greater control over how we respond to life's challenges. In this talk and mindfulness session Martin Stepek shows us how to do just that, by developing our ability to observe what's really going on in our everyday life, and how to take the sting out of our most troublesome thoughts and emotional reactions to events.

Putting Dunfermline on the map: discover five centuries of Scottish mapping.

By Laragh Quinney, Maps Reading Room Manager National Library of Scotland

Sun 29 Oct | 2pm-3pm | £2

Looking at the Dunfermline maps in the collection of the National Library and Dunfermline Reading Room, Laragh Quinney will be putting the historical mapping of Fife into its national context

Kirkcaldy Galleries

There is so much to see and do when you come to Kirkcaldy Galleries. Our Library has a wide range of books and services for all ages. The Art Gallery shows temporary and longer term exhibitions, many of them featuring selections from our outstanding Scottish art collection. See highlights from the history of Kirkcaldy in the Moments in Time long term museum display, and investigate your own history further in our Local and Family History Centre.

Why not also take time for refreshments in the Café Wemyss with its stunning display of pottery?

Exhibition

The Glasgow Boys - A Spirit of Rebellion

Until 5 Nov | FREE

Linked by friendship and a shared desire to rebel against the existing art establishment in late 19th century Scotland, the Glasgow Boys became internationally famous. They enjoyed critical acclaim and commercial success at home and abroad and their determination to break with tradition paved the way for other young Scottish artists.

A Spirit of Rebellion offers visitors a rare opportunity to see many of these lauded paintings brought together in one venue - 30 paintings by 17 artists.

Fun for All - Why not plan a family visit to see The Glasgow Boys? There are a host of hands-on activities in the exhibition galleries, and Gallery Explorers backpacks to borrow - full of fun things for children to do with their family and friends.

Exhibition

Brothers In Arms And Blood Brothers

Scotland's War Project (1914-1919)

Mon 6 Nov - Sun 31 Dec

FREE

The Canadian Expeditionary Force fought throughout World War One but a particular relationship grew up between the soldiers of the Canadian First Nations and the Scots. Many of the First Nations people had adopted Scottish surnames and in 1916 their regiments visited Scotland. This exhibition tells the story of the visit and how those earlier bonds were strengthened and built on to help make Scotland 'a country fit for heroes' in the years after the war.

See page 10 for an additional Talk on this exhibit.

Artist Master classes with Gemma Coyle: landscape painting

Sat 2 & Sat 16 Sept | 12.30-3.30pm
£15/£12 per workshop

Using the Glasgow Boys exhibition as inspiration, look at the distinctive Glasgow style of that period, and experiment with composition, colour and texture within sketchbooks. In the second session, work on a final piece using complimentary colours and exciting brush strokes.

Please note that participants must book to attend BOTH workshops. All materials are included in the cost

Exhibition

The Stirling Tapestries

Craigie Aitchison

Sat 18 Nov - Sun 18 Mar 2018

Six large tapestries designed by Craigie Aitchison for a competition to decorate The Chapel Royal in Stirling Castle. The scheme failed but the designs were produced posthumously as a faithful realization of the artist's intent. Craigie never saw his work woven into these superb tapestries but at Kirkcaldy Galleries you can.

Exhibition

Ethics & Aesthetics - Living in a Material World

Sat 18 Nov - Sun 18 Mar 2018

Using objects from our ethnographic collections, this exhibition explores the hidden meanings behind everyday objects, such as jewellery, clothing and domestic items. The objects on display span both centuries and continents - from South American pottery and beaded African jewellery, to Chinese porcelain and carved ivory miniatures from Japan.

Curated by postgraduate Museum & Galleries Studies students at the University of St Andrews

Methil Heritage Centre

Methil Heritage Centre is a community museum lying in the heart of Levenmouth, an area stretching from Leven to the Wemyss villages, and from Kennoway to the shores of the River Forth.

Located in a former Post Office, the centre hosts a programme of changing exhibitions and events, as well as a tearoom and a shop. The long term display, Levenmouth Lives, offers a flavour of the rich heritage of the area. Evidence of life in early times can be seen in the Pictish carvings in the Wemyss Caves. In more recent times the village of Buckhaven had the second largest fishing fleet in Scotland and Methil was the most important port in Scotland for shipping coal that came from the many mines in Fife.
